Bruce Bennett Addresses Rotary Club

Another fine program was presented at the Hope Rotary Club meeting Friday at Hotel Barlow with Kelly Bryant, serving as program chairman.

Guest speaker for the occasion was Attorney General Bruce Bennett of Little Rock, who brought to the club a highly interesting and informative talk dealing with current matters now engaging the attention of the Attorney General's Office throughout the state of Arkansas.

In addition to Mr. Bennett, Mr. Bryant, had as his guest for the luncheon meeting, Perry Kinard, also of the Attorney General's Office.

Other guests of the club included L. B. Tooley, Dr. Emmett Thompson, and Hendrix Spraggins, all of Hope. Visiting Rotarians were R. H. Hubbard of Texarkana, Horace McKenzie and Adam Guthrie, Jr., both of Prescott. Forty-three local Rotarians were in attendance.

Hoover Denies FBI Charge by Faubus

WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said today Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas indulged in a falsehood in accusing the FBI of holding teenagers in Little Rock incommunicado for hours of questioning.

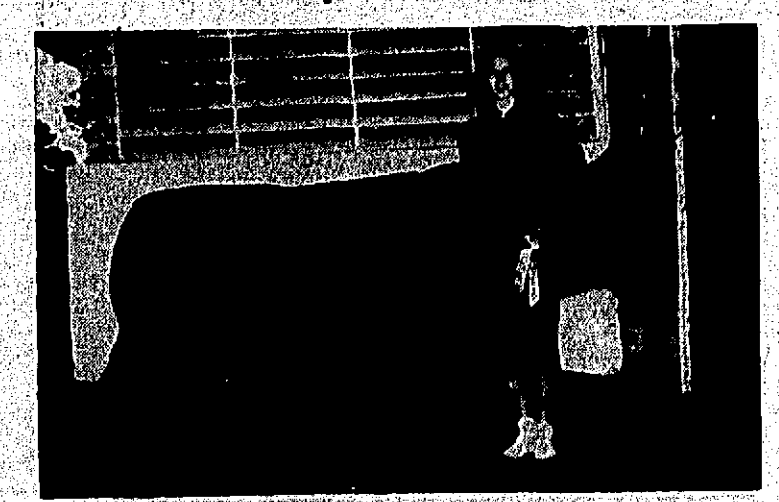

The governor, in a television address to the nation last night, said "teen-aged girls have been taken by the FBI and held incommunicado for hours of questioning while their frantic parents know nothing of their whereabouts."

Hoover today issued this statement:

"The statement that Gov. Orval Faubus last night that FBI agents held teen-aged girls incommunicado for hours of questioning is as false as his recent statement that FBI tapped his telephone."

"No teenager or anyone else has been held incommunicado by the FBI for hours of questioning."

Relic Is Preserved

Saint Veronica is said to have offered Christ her kerchief to wipe the sweat from His face. Tradition has it that the imprint of His features remained on the cloth and this relic is said to have been preserved in Rome.

Finally Convinces It Was a Hat

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Amateur hat designer Luise Squire, 37, finally has convinced authorities that one of her chapeaus which she treated out of a plastic mesh shopping bag was not "a mess."

Police arrested her Aug. 28 for wearing the shopping bag hat while driving her convertible in a business district. The charge was reckless driving.

Miss Squire bitterly protested when officers wrote on the complaint that she was wearing "a mess" on her head and could not see where she was driving. She claimed she makes fancy hats out of handy household articles.

She appeared in court Sept. 18 and pleaded innocent. Her head was adorned with a potholder.

Thursday, Miss Squire appeared with her plastic hat for trial before Municipal Judge Steven S. Weissman. The judge tried on the hat and exclaimed:

"I can see quite clearly... not guilty."

Blames Faubus for Loss of Their Jobs

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Two persons have blamed differences with Gov. Orval Faubus for the dismissal of relatives from state jobs.

Edwin E. Dunaway, Little Rock attorney who recently was criticized by Faubus, said yesterday that his sister Mrs. Elizabeth Henry, had lost her secretarial job with the State Public Service Commission after holding it eight years.

Dr. Roy Selby said his wife lost a stenographic job with the Assessment Co-ordination Division because he wrote a letter to the governor criticizing his actions in the integration dispute.

Faubus recently said in a speech that he suspected Dunaway of being the man who supplied "crooked information" to newsmen in the integration dispute.

Dunaway said he would "ask the governor to repay me the $400 I borrowed from a bank to get him elected." He said he borrowed the money in 1954 and donated it to buy radio and television time for Faubus, so the governor could answer charges that he once attended Commonwealth College at Menard—a defunct school that was declared subversive.

Faubus could not be reached for comment.

During his first campaign the governor was accused of attending Commonwealth. He admitted attending for a brief time but his opponent, the then Governor Francis A. Cherry charged Faubus had altered his story on whether it was a few days or several weeks.

Dr. Selby said his wife was told Wednesday by her supervisor that she would have to resign or be fired because her husband had written the critical letter. Dr. Selby said she was fired.

W. A. Hinton, the supervisor, said Mrs. Selby resigned and that she left for "several reasons." He said he did not agree with Dr. Selby's version of the action.

Mrs. FDR in Russia, Talks With Leaders

MOSCOW (UP)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt meets Soviet Communist Party leader Nikita S. Khrushchev at Yalta today for some "straight answers" to a list of searching questions about Soviet aims and policies.

Mrs. Roosevelt, 73, flew from Moscow to Khrushchev's Black Sea retreat on the Crimean Peninsula Thursday night. She was scheduled to meet with him this morning.

Yalta is where her husband, President Franklin D. Roosevelt, carved out a controversial agreement in 1945 with Josef Stalin and Winston Churchill.

The agreement provided the Soviet Union with concessions on Poland, Germany, China and Japan in return for Russia's entry into the Pacific war shortly before Japan surrendered.

Before her departure, Mrs. Roosevelt, who has had plenty of experience in interviewing world statesmen, said she attaches "much importance" to today's meeting.

"I hope to get some straight answers to my questions," she told United Press.

"American people want to know about political attitudes, ideas about each other, the possibilities of preserving peace and how to improve Soviet-American relations," she said.

"I am happy to have this opportunity and I'm hopeful I'll get frank, precise answers which may help improve mutual understanding. But it won't be so helpful if we only talk generalities."

She paused, frowned, and then snapped his fingers.

Says Future Depends on Womanpower

By DOC QUIGG

NEW YORK (UP)—Wilbur, our office grouch, had his head buried in a newspaper when suddenly, from the paper's depths, he began yelling in anguish.

"Why don't they leave us alone?" he screamed. "Why don't they get out of our lives?"

"Whatever is bothering you now, Wilbur?"

"Womanpower," said Wilbur. "The thinkers in Washington are thinking about womanpower. The secretary of labor says, and here I quote, he says, 'The future of our economy depends upon womanpower to a greater degree than ever before.'"

"Womanpower? What does that mean?"

"He is talking," said Wilbur, "about working girls—the female answer to manpower. He says 10 million more persons will enter the U. S. working force by 1965 and that more than half of them will be women."

"And get this. The president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce says the 'manpower pinch'—what ever that means—probably will bring women's wages up even with men's. He says long-standing taboos against female executives will be wiped out. He says dames will invade fields that men now largely occupy."

Wilbur wadded up the paper and hurled it across the room, narrowly missing a female executive and her female secretary having a coffee break together.

"Bulldozers," telephone poles "what next," he muttered.

"Women mailmen, maybe? Oh, no, they couldn't do that. They'd open all the letters and read 'em in the swift completion of their appointed rounds. Train engineers, maybe! Who-oo-woo! Mrs. Casey Jones... Come all ye children if you want to hear the story of a brave broad engineer..." he crooned.

Then he began puffing like a locomotive. The female executive and the secretary watched him nervously.

"Women Santa Clauses! Ho Ho Ho! Merry Christmas!" roared Wilbur, his eyes strangely alight.

"They'll never get that job—they couldn't stand to give all those things away."

"Maybe eventually they'll give female executives men stenographers to sit in their laps," Wilbur continued.

"And how about their invading the field of dentistry? That's ideal. They could fill the patients' mouths with instruments so he couldn't talk back and then blab away at him to their heart's content."

He paused, frowned, and then snapped his fingers.

Premier Asks for a Confidence Vote

PARIS (UP)—Premier Maurice Bourges-Maunoury demanded an unexpected single vote of confidence today on the provisions of his Algerian reform bill as it now stands.

The deputies agreed to vote Monday.

The premier's move virtually shut off all further debate on the issue, and brought immediate cries of "dictator" against him from right wing members of the National Assembly.

The compromise Algerian bill had been worked out in conference with the nation's political leaders in the past week. Right-wingers were not fully satisfied with the proposed law, and had hoped to weaken it through amendments in the assembly.

Pilkinton Will Run for Office of Governor

Judge James H. Pilkinton' of Hope, Ark., announced here Friday that he will be a candidate for governor of Arkansas in 1958.

The 44-year-old chancellor said he will file his pledge in person at 10 a. m. Saturday. If the Secretary of State's office in Little Rock is open at that time and if the forms are available, he will hold a press conference at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Marlon Hotel.

Judge Pilkinton is the first to officially announce his candidacy for governor.

In an announcement released Friday, he said:

"For several months many substantial people throughout the state have been urging that I give some thought to the possibility of running for governor of Arkansas in 1958."

"That same suggestion has been made to me before, but I have never given it serious consideration in prior years. This time, however, I did agree to think about it some, and to discuss the matter with my family and friends. I have today reached a definite decision, and will be a candidate for governor in next summer's primaries."

Judge Pilkinton declined to comment Friday on the current integration problem, saying he would answer all questions at his press conference Saturday afternoon.

Judge Pilkinton is serving his seventh year as chancellor of the Sixth Chancery Circuit of Arkansas, second division.

Prior to going on the bench, he served as prosecuting attorney for the Eighth Judicial District for four years. He served in the Navy during World War II, and was a state senator during the administrations of Governors Carl Bailey and Homer Adkins.

Admitted to the bar 20 years ago, Judge Pilkinton graduated from Henderson State Teachers College at Arkadelphia and attended the Arkansas Law School in Little Rock.

Court Delays Union Election Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. Judge F. Dickinson Letts today blocked next week's scheduled election of a new state of officers by the International Teamsters Union.

The judge granted a petition by a group of New York members of the union for a temporary injunction.

The petitioners had complained that convention delegates have been picked improperly and the election stacked to bring about selection of James R. Hoffa as Teamsters president.

Hoffa is Midwest boss of the Teamsters and has been considered the hands-down candidate to replace Dave Beck, who is retiring in the aftermath of accusations from a Senate committee, of misconduct and misuse of Teamsters funds. Hoffa himself has been a target of the same Senate committee in its investigation of labor-management misdeeds. Hoffa has been accused of links to gangsters, and of financial shenanigans.

Ahead of his ruling in the merits of the action, Letts turned down two preliminary motions by the union's top brass. One was a motion to quash on the ground that papers had not been legally served on the union leaders. The other was a general motion to dismiss, on the principal ground that the plea to make the attack on delegates' qualifications was inside the union.

The Teamsters' convention opens in Miami Beach, Fla., Monday.

Governor May Call Session of Legislature

By OBERT E. FORD

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The summoning of an emergency session of the Arkansas Legislature in connection with the Little Rock integration crisis, appeared possible today in the light of Gov. Orval Faubus' latest statements.

Faubus definitely opened the prospect of an emergency legislative session last night by saying he may call the lawmakers within 10 days.

The governor had said earlier that many legislators "pressured" him to call them to Little Rock so they could fight back against the federal government's forcible integration measures. Faubus also said that some legislators even offered to serve without pay.

Meanwhile, the Army potted a small number of troops at Central High for the weekend—mainly, it said, to guard the buildings.

Nine Negro students completed their third full day of integrated classes yesterday and left under guard a good when school was dismissed for the weekend.

But their guard of paratroopers was smaller, indicating that the Army considers it has the area under control. No demonstrators appeared, as they did Wednesday, the first day battle-hardened soldiers from the 101st Airborne Division escorted the nine into Central High.

U.S. Bluntly Challenges on Newsmen

WASHINGTON (INS)—The State Department bluntly challenged the Chinese Communist regime today to put up or shut up on the question of getting its newsmen into the United States.

"This was in effect, the administration's response to the latest Peiping radio statement on the issue of newsmen."

The Communist propaganda mouthpiece demanded in a broadcast this morning that the United States exempt Chinese Communist reporters who may visit the U.S. from the fingerprinting requirement.

State Department spokesman Lincoln White said anti-Communist, they will get off the dime and make some applications instead of mouthing a lot of words."

Although it has been nearly a month since Secretary of State John Foster Dulles first promised that applications from Chinese Communist newsmen would be considered on an individual basis, no reporter from the red-ruled ruled mainland has applied for a visa.

U. S. officials said it appears evident that Peiping is more interested in propaganda than in seeing Communist Chinese reporters visit the U. S.

Emeritus for Beck Is Removed

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Constitution Committee of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters has voted to eliminate the emeritus provision under which it had been proposed that retiring President Dave Beck be given emeritus status and his same $50,000 a year salary.

Beck said last night that it had been at his request that the committee voted to strike the provision which was inserted in 1953 when the late Dan Tobin left the presidency of the vast brotherhood after 40 years' service.

Vice President James Hoffa, aspirant for the post Beck will vacate during the Teamsters' convention here next week, had sparked a move to confer emeritus rank upon the retiring president.

There had been some opposition in Teamster quarters to the move to give this honor to Beck, who retires with a $50,000 annual pension. Opponents said it would have made Beck virtually a president behind the scenes.

Apparently spearheading the opposition was Vice President William A. Lee of Chicago, who recently announced he was withdrawing his support from Hoffa for president.
